MIAD SPRING 2023 RECOMMENDED & REQUIRED TEXTBOOKS

MIAD students are responsible for obtaining their textbooks for classes. All required books reflected on this list need to be purchased no later than the third week of the semester.

Recommended Sources for Attaining Information Relating to Textbooks

Students have the freedom to acquire their textbooks from any venue of their choice. We have identified several websites that have proven to reliably carry our instructors' titles as follows:

www.amazon.com

www.ecampus.com

www.Abebooks.com

www.bigwords.com (Multiple listings to comparison shop may be accessed through this site.)

General Information Related To The MIAD Textbook List (Attached)

The following spreadsheet lists the recommended and required textbooks for all classes offered during the summer semester.

When reviewing the textbooks spreadsheet to determine what textbooks to obtain, please pay particular attention to the 13-digit ISBN numbers provided. This will ensure that you acquire the correct published version and edition of a given listed text. Oftentimes a text has been published over time by a variety of publishers. Thus, it is not safe to acquire a text simply based on the author/editor name and title.

Please note the following:

- "No textbooks required" may appear in the REQUIRED/RECOMMENDED column, this indicates that the instructor does not require a textbook for this class.
- The price listed in the "List Price" column is simply the standard retail cost for each text from Amazon. In many instances, textbooks are available at significantly lower prices.

Questions?

Any questions regarding the textbook list should be directed to Missy Ziebart, Academic Budget/Purchasing Manager, at missyziebart@miad.edu.

For general information regarding software purchasing go to http://openbook.miad.edu. Any questions can be submitted by clicking on the help icon at this site.
